Introduction

You might have thought it would be difficult to find six completely different walks from one Cotswold village, but this is Painswick. It sits on the saddle between two valleys which merge and then meander down to Stroud; a little way north there is Painswick Beacon with views across the Severn plain stretching across to the Black Mountains in Wales and just to the east you can find Cider With Rosie country: the beautiful Slad Valley which was so lovingly brought to the nation's attention by the writer Laurie Lee.

Each walk has been hand-crafted by me, my wife Nicky and our dog Daisy. Our combined objectives were:

- In and around the village: each of the walks includes some of the lanes and footpaths which are hidden away in this classic Cotswold village
- Circular walks: we've tried to come up with circular (ish) walks, but there might be some interesting side paths which we've suggested and sometimes these require returning by the same route.
- Some exercise for Daisy: uppermost in Daisy's mind was her desire that each walk should contain a stretch where she could be off the lead – and she pronounced herself happy with every walk included in this book!
- A good pub: and are there any pubs finer than The Falcon Inn or The Royal Oak? I've been drinking and eating at these pubs for nearly twenty years and they must be two of the finest inns in the Cotswolds – and perfectly situated for some great walks.

The map to the right provides an overview of the stunning walks in this booklet:

1. Huddinknoll Hill (to the west)
2. Painswick Valley – South
3. Painswick Beacon
(the less travelled route)
4. Painswick Valley – North
5. Slad Valley (to the east)
6. Short walk in Painswick for rainy days! (not shown on map)

Daisy absolutely insists that we regularly re-trace the walks in case anything has changed, but if you spot any errors then please let me know – we will both be mortified and will correct the error immediately and re-publish on www.rrgordon.com

1. Huddinknoll Hill

Rod's Rating	 Picture postcard rolling countryside to the west, with stunning views down the Holcombe spur of the Painswick valley.
Daisy's Rating	 No such thing as a bad walk, Daisy says. She enjoyed roaming up and down the fields – and there were plenty of streams to grab a quick drink.
Is it a circular walk?	Yes
Pub & Parking	You can either park behind The Falcon or at Stamages Lane car park.
How long did it take?	1½ to 2 hours    6km ie 3¾ miles    200m up/down

The walk in summary:

Head north-west into the Holcombe valley and up the other side, then south along the ridge of Huddinknoll Hill and back down into the valley, then east/north-east back to Painswick.

THE WALK - In detail:

- > Turn left out of The Falcon and head uphill along the main road through Painswick (New Street)
- > Just after the traffic lights (immediately after Bank House, opposite Bell Yard) turn left up a tarmac drive (Hollyhock Lane)
- > Turn to the left at the top of the driveway and then to the right by a large tree, the drive narrows to a pedestrian footpath here
- > Go straight across the residential road (Hyett Close) and along another pedestrian footpath thru houses
- > Turn right at the next road (Churchill Way) and walk past school on your left

- > Immediately after the school turn left up another footpath (school field on your left, houses on right)
- > Follow the Public Footpath sign to the left (the path goes through the trees to the left of the track)
- > After 25 yards go through metal kissing gate ahead (large white sign to the side); ignore tracks to left & right
- > Turn right and go down the right side of the field, slightly downhill, heading for the valley
- > Go through green metal kissing gate & continue straight ahead down the valley (fence on left, trees on right)
- > Go through wooden kissing gate & bear right to head up the right side of the field, trees on your right
- > Go through kissing gate & head uphill, up the right side of the field

Highfold Farm is to your left, the view is down the Holcombe spur to the main Painswick Valley

- > At the top of the rise, go straight across the farm drive via wooden kissing gate

NB. The farm drive leads to Highfold Farm and in the field next to the farmhouse a Roman villa was discovered at the end of the 19th century. See "Something Interesting" section below for details. If you take a short detour (about 25 yards) down the farm drive there is a sign explaining a little more about the site.

- > Go through metal 7-bar gate & continue across field, slightly to left, heading for large house in distance
- > Climb over the stile and turn right, following the hedge on the right
- > Climb over stile and turn left to walk downhill between two hedges (NB. The footpath becomes a stream here if it's been raining!)

- > Cross over the stream (Wash Brook) at the bottom of the valley using wooden footbridge

- > Bear right over stream (not left), following yellow Public Footpath, go through trees for 50 yards, then over a stile and into a field; head uphill on the left side of the field

- > Head for fenced area at the top and climb over the stile; do not go left towards Edge Farm, but go straight ahead 5 yards then turn right onto tarmac farm drive (which leads away from Edge Farm)

You are now at Huddinknoll Hill which is around the halfway point of walk, but you might prefer to continue to bench below before stopping for a rest ...

- > At the end of the flat section of track, ignore stile to right & continue along farm track, slightly downhill
- > When you reach some houses, ignore the two public footpaths to left and bear right along tarmac road (Packhurst House on right)
- > Turn right at the fork in the road (at the triangle of grass)
- > Follow road uphill, going past the turning for Packhurst Farm
- > Turn left at a public footpath sign in the hedge (if you get to the next house on the right, Kenidjack, you have gone too far)
- > Head straight across the field, heading for large tree to left of telegraph pole; Painswick valley to your left
- > Climb over stile and go straight ahead through trees, a garden on your right
- > Walk between two Cotswold stone walls to emerge at Edge village green
- > Go straight across the village green, heading downhill past a BENCH under a tree
- > Turn right along tarmac lane past Edge village hall
- > Go left over a stile in farmyard, opposite barns; head down the grass
- > Climb over a stile and head down again; cross stream at the bottom via wooden footbridge
- > Head straight across field, aiming for the rightmost of two trees in hedge opposite

- > Climb over stile; officially the footpath then follows the right edge of the field, but the direct route is to cut across the field aiming for the house straight ahead
  - > You come to the Cotswold Way running left to right in front of you; turn left and head down to large stone Cotswold Way marker post (church steeple in distance); follow the Cotswold Way back to the village
  - > At the trees, go through a small wooden gate into the woods; cross a wooden footbridge in the woods
  - > Emerge into a clearing thru kissing gate and go through a kissing gate halfway along the left side
  - > Turn right and walk down a track
  - > When you reach some houses turn right just past them to walk along side of house and across a stream
  - > Go through a wooden kissing gate and a little further walk diagonally across the field, heading for opposite side; then walk up to top-right corner of field (tennis courts on your right behind hedge)
  - > Go through a kissing gate and walk steeply uphill with barbed wire fence on your left; aim for tree at top
  - > At the top of the hill, go through a kissing gate, which leads to a path running between some gardens
  - > Turn right at the end of the path, across the drive leading to a house called The Lantern and follow another path between some gardens (follow Cotswold Way sign)
  - > Go through a kissing gate into a small triangular field; walk along the right hand side
- Halfway along field you will see a sculpture dedicated to Tony Drake, principal creator of Cotswold Way.*
- > Go through kissing gate onto tarmac road and turn right (this is Edge Road)
  - > At the end of the road you reach the church again – turn left and you will find The Falcon on your left
- Any problems with these directions? Please email me at rod@rrgordon.com (also if you liked the walk!)*

SOMETHING INTERESTING:

Near Highfold Farm, around half a mile from the edge of Painswick, was once a roman villa called Ifold (hence the name Highfold for the farm today). The evidence of this villa is at the bottom (southern) end of one of the neighbouring fields to the farmhouse, ie the villa was situated just a few yards from where the farmhouse is today – and in fact some of the farm buildings re-used some of the stone from the villa.

The villa was built some time in the 3rd century and was unused after the 5th century (the Romans left Britain in AD410). There is some evidence that the villa was burned and it is commonly held that the Saxons set fire to every Romano-British town and villa they met with.

The only formal excavation seems to have been made by W. St. CLAIR BADDELEY in 1904 but he was an extremely thorough archaeologist and his very detailed notes have been preserved and can be found at

https://archive.org/stream/transactionsofbr27bris/transactionsofbr27bris\_djvu.txt

The villa was approximately 100 feet long x 60 feet and the excavation found a mosaic (“of combined geometric and scroll type, having a broad chequer border at the east end in small red and white squares”), a bath, underground heating, vase, pewter pot, comb, decanter, coins, tiles, grindstones, window glass, horse-shoe, gold ring. One of the two coins showed Helmeted Roma; reverse, the wolf and twins.

2. Painswick Valley - South (or Postcards from the Edge)

Rod's Rating	 Stunning views across Painswick Valley – and then also, briefly, the Severn Valley. Walking back across wide open fields along the bottom of Painswick valley with plenty to see on both sides. But tiring - you'll need a drink at the pub when you get back from this one!
Daisy's Rating	 Daisy thinks that every walk should be as long as this one. Or perhaps a little longer. Plenty of streams for her to jump in, rolling grassland for her to roam around and woods for her to hunt in.
Is it a circular walk?	Yes (south-west, then south, then west and finally north along the valley floor)
Pub & Parking	You can either park behind The Falcon GL6 6UN or at Stamages Lane car park.
How long did it take?	3-4 hours 10 km ie 6 miles 400m of up/down

The walk in summary:

Follow the Cotswold Way for the first couple of miles up to Scotts Quar Hill.

Follow the ridge southward and then head down the Whiteshill valley spur.

Finally head north back to Painswick along the valley floor, following the stream.

THE WALK - In detail:

- Turn right out of The Falcon and walk down the road in the direction of Stroud (slightly downhill)
- Turn right onto Edge Road
- Continue along the road for approx. 200-300 yards and turn left at Cotswold Way sign (you will follow the Cotswold Way for the first couple of miles until Maitlands Wood at the top of Scottsquar Hill above Edge)
- Go through kissing gate into a small triangular field; walk along left hand side

NB. Halfway along the field you will see a lovely sculpture dedicated to Tony Drake, the principal creator of the Cotswold Way.

- Go through a kissing gate and follow a path leading between some houses, go across a drive leading to a house called The Lantern and turn left to follow another path between some houses
- Go through a kissing gate, emerging at the top of a hill; walk downhill with the fence on your right
- Go through a kissing gate and continue straight ahead following the left edge of the field (Painswick tennis courts are on your left behind the trees/hedge)
- The path then veers across the field to far right corner then bears right to continue downhill thru woods
- Go through a kissing gate, then down past a couple of houses and a stream
- Turn left after the second house to follow a track slightly uphill (still following Cotswold Way)
- After 200 yds there is a gate on left; go thru this & bear right across field & into woods thru kissing gate
- Cross a wooden footbridge in the woods
- Turn left as you exit the woods at a gate and walk uphill on the left edge of the field, go past a large stone Cotswold Way marker
- Go through a wooden gate, turn left and walk along the left edge of field, still uphill
- Go through a metal kissing gate and turn right onto road (Jenkin's Lane)
- Walk up the road to a main road (A4173 Stroud-Gloucester) and turn right towards the Edgemoor Inn (do not go immediately across the road where there is a footpath sign to Scottsquar Hill)
- Opposite the pub there is a layby, cross the road and follow the Cotswold Way sign (on the side of the layby) through a wooden gate into Rudge Hill Nature Reserve
- Turn right to follow path leading uphill
- Continue to top of hill, going straight across 3 cross-tracks, still following Cotswold Way signs

At the top of the Rudge Hill (just before you go down past a silver birch on left), turn around to look back at the view of Painswick in the valley below. This is the main climbing done, but there are plenty of small climbs ahead! However it's certainly a good spot for a rest.

- Go a few yards downhill, turn left following Cotswold Way sign then right to go down some steps with a metal handrail
- Go through wooden gate and straight across road
- Head down and slightly left into the woods (Maitlands Wood) still following Cotswold Way
- After a little way, you emerge from the woods at some houses, with a view over the Severn valley
- Turn left to go slightly uphill along a wide crushed Cotswold stone track along the edge of the woods
- Just after a new-ish house on your right (with parking on your left) you finally leave the Cotswold Way at a footpath which forks left and uphill through the trees at a small National Trust sign marked NO CYCLING OR RIDING; this is actually referring to the Cotswold Way which continues straight ahead but you fork left here to walk uphill (steep in parts!); keep to left hand path as you go up
- Go straight across a cross-track as you near the road at the top

- Go straight across the road (right then left) to go through a gap in a Cotswold stone wall and over a stile

- Continue straight ahead to cross to woods on the left side of the field, walk along edge of field and climb over stone stile just after the 4th telegraph pole

- Head right and down into another field

- Walk across the right (top) edge of the field to the other side

- There are two stiles close together at the far corner of the field, take the left hand stile between two stones (not the right hand stile that leads up to Stoneridge Farm)

- A bridleway (unmarked) goes sharp left on the near side of the wood, but you should follow the footpath ahead which goes down the far side of the woods which widen as they go down; follow right edge of woods downhill, right beside a mossy Cotswold stone wall

- A short way after the mossy Cotswold stone wall has ended, the path veers slightly left away from the right edge of the woods to follow a line of telegraph poles

- Climb over a stile and turn left on tarmac lane (this is Upper Kitesnest Lane in Whiteshill)

TAKE CARE ON THIS NEXT INSTRUCTION!

- The lane leads down to a house, take path to left of driveway & round back of the house, turning sharp right to walk down a footpath on the lower edge of the garden (do not go straight ahead back into woods)

- Just after some farm buildings on your left (Kite's Nest Farm) fork left down to a narrow wooden gate next to a metal 7-bar gate; the valley can be seen ahead of you

- Turn right onto tarmac farm drive and walk along the top edge of a field overlooking Painswick valley

- Go thru a metal 7-bar gate & immediately fork left after a red poo bin to go to left of an old garage

NB. This is approximately the halfway stage of the walk. Before forking left, you could continue down the lane (Field Road) to pop into Whiteshill where there is a pub (The Star Inn) and a shop.

- Walk downhill between 2 hedges – and then past a field on your right

- At the end of the field go over a stile; a footpath leads you between a house & its garage (relatively separate); walk out along the drive (ignore footpath on your left as you leave house)

- After a hundred yards turn sharp left to follow a driveway down to Stokenhill Farm

- Go between farm buildings & then turn right to follow footpath (to right of metal gate) down to the road

- Climb over a stile and cross the road (A46); turn right and walk along pavement on other side

- After 25 yards turn left by a bus stop and public footpath sign to walk up a driveway to a few houses

- Go past Rockmill House towards the last house on your left, then turn left just before a tall laurel hedge turn left, walk 5 paces, then turn right to walk through a gap in the hedge, then turn left to skirt round the edge of the garden to a stile next to a metal 6-bar gate

- Climb over the stile and turn right

- Climb over next stile after a few yards & walk straight uphill across a field heading for Hammonds Farm

- At the top of the rise, climb over stile, turn right and walk up through farm (Hammonds Barn on left)

- Turn left as you exit the farm buildings, then left again

- Before barns go over stone stile on your right and walk along left edge of field

You will now walk across a dozen fields up valley back to Painswick, the stream to your left in valley floor

- At end of field go left over a stile to walk between 2 hedges towards next field; then over another stile into field (note carved owl on stile post!)

- Continue on left side of field; Pitchcombe village is to your left

- Go through kissing gate (note second carved owl) and turn left onto road

- After 25 yards bear right to go through metal kissing gate and then almost immediately go through another metal kissing gate

- Continue straight ahead following right (top) edge of field
Pitchcombe church is up and to your left on the opposite hillside

- Go through a metal kissing gate in the trees, across a stream, continue straight ahead

- After 50 yards the path veers diagonally left past a large tree then a tall cedar with Painswick steeple glimpsed in the distance

- Head into some trees in a dip & go through a gate (inside a gate)

- Head up a small (yet steep!) rise and walk out along the drive of a house (keep house on your left)

- Cross the road (Pincot Lane), go over a stile and continue straight across the next field

- Climb over a stile at the base of an ash tree, go down into a dip with some trees

- Cross a wooden footbridge (quite high!), continue straight on up a rise

- Go through a wooden kissing gate to the left of a large house (Sheephouse)

- Go out along the driveway into parkland (ignore metal kissing gate on left as you leave the house)

- At a fork in the driveway go left and down (grass in the middle of the road), heading for the stream

- Cross over the stream, follow stream past house on left, stream on right

- Turn right and go through a gate to cross the stream at a weir

- Go over a stile, turn left and follow the stream on your left

- Climb over a stile and go straight ahead between two fences and then two garden hedges

- Go through a gap in a Cotswold stone wall and turn left onto the road (Stepping Stones Lane, Painswick)

- Follow the road over the stream and up the hill, go straight on past the turning for King's Mill Lane

- Walk up the road until you get to a driveway on your right with a public footpath sign, walk to the end of the driveway and go down a narrow path to the left of the garage at the end

- Go into a small field and head left and uphill

- Climb over a stile at the top and turn right to follow a grass track to the gate at the end

- Go through the gate and out through the driveway between two houses

- Turn left onto Kemp's Lane, heading uphill

- Go up past houses such as Fig Tree Cottage, Wyck House and then turn left at the end of a high Cotswold stone wall to go up a narrow alley way between two houses (metal handrail on the side)

- The alleyway opens out into a road (Hale Lane), walk up to the top and turn right

- Painswick church is in front of you (and you go past the village stocks)

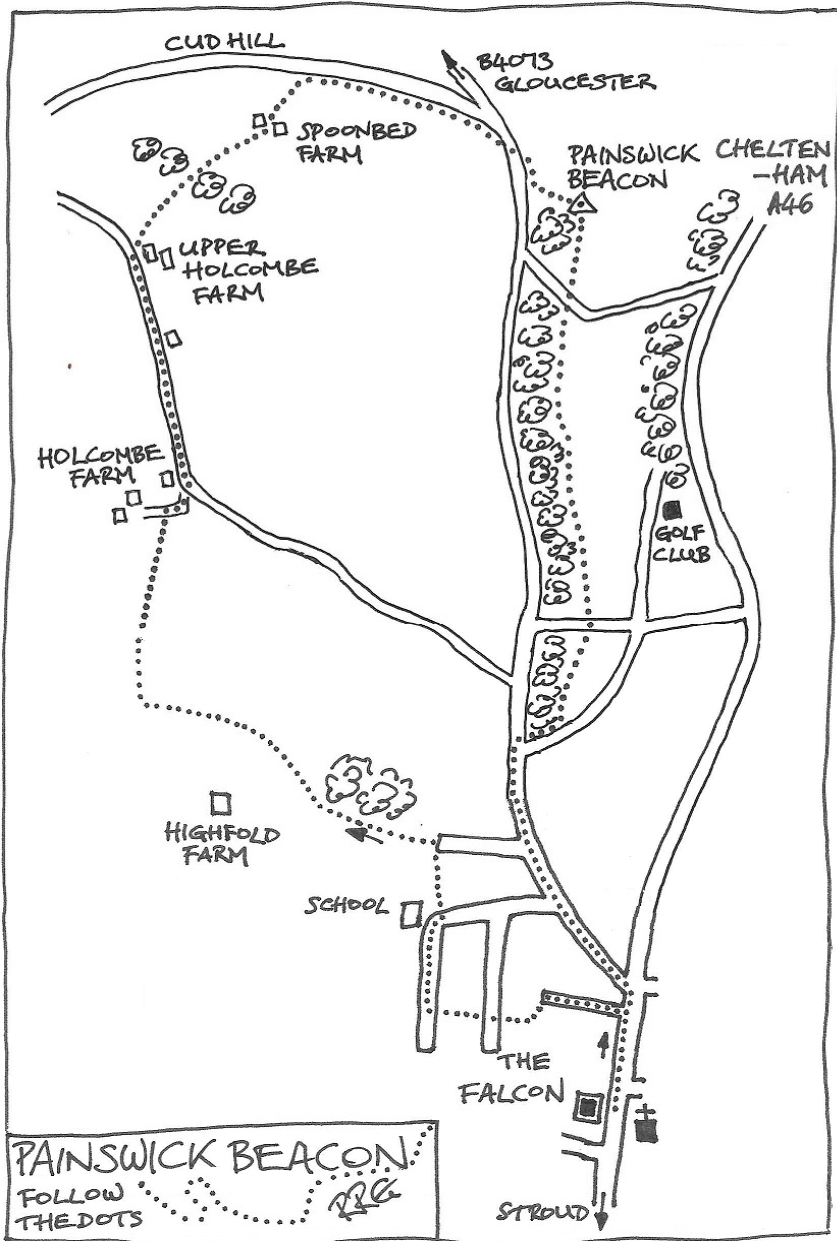

- The Falcon is just the other side of the churchyard; head back for a well-earned drink and a bite to eat! Alternatively go to the Oak in St Mary's Street.

3. Painswick Beacon – Through the back of the Wardrobe

Rod's Rating	 Nobody goes to Painswick Beacon this way so keep it under your hat. Sneak out the back door of village into the Holcombe spur of the Painswick valley and climb up to Cud Hill – the only place where you see spectacular views of the Severn valley and the Painswick valley from the same vantage point. Stunning.
Daisy's Rating	 Daisy particularly likes this walk on Sundays – when the golf course is not available for play and she can roam across the common land of the Beacon.
Is it a circular walk?	Yes – with a fair bit of climbing, but aren't they all
Pub & Parking	You can either park behind The Falcon GL6 6UN or at Stamages Lane car park.
How long did it take?	1½ - 2 ½ hours 7km ie 4¼ miles 250m up/down
What shoes?	Walking boots recommended in parts

The walk in summary:

Head west out of the village and then head north, climbing up the Holcombe spur of the Painswick valley.

Climb up to Painswick Beacon and then head south back to the village across the common land of the golf course, staying on the right hand side of the fairways.

THE WALK - In detail:

- Turn left out of The Falcon and head uphill along the main road through Painswick (New Street)
- Just after the traffic lights (immediately after Bank House, opposite Bell Yard) turn left up a tarmac drive (Hollyhock Lane)
- Turn to the left at the top of the driveway and then to the right by a large tree, the drive narrows to a pedestrian footpath here
- Go straight across the residential road (Hyett Close) and along another pedestrian footpath thru houses
- Turn right at the next road (Churchill Way) and walk past school on your left
- Immediately after the school turn left up another footpath (school field on your left, houses on right)
- Where track bends left, follow Public Footpath sign to the left (path goes thru trees to left of track)
- After 25 yds go through metal kissing gate (large white sign to the side); ignore tracks to left & right
- Turn right and go down the right side of the field, slightly downhill, heading for the valley
- Go thru green metal kissing gate & continue straight ahead down the valley (fence on left, trees on right)
- Go thru wooden kissing gate & bear right to head up the right side of the field, trees on your right
- Go thru kissing gate & head uphill, up the right side of the field

Highfold Farm is to your left, the view is down the Holcombe spur to the main Painswick Valley

- At the top of the rise, go straight across the farm drive via wooden kissing gate

NB. The farm drive leads to Highfold Farm.

- Go through metal 7-bar gate & continue across field, slightly to left, heading for large house in distance
- Climb over the stile and turn right, following the hedge on the right
- Go into trees and go straight through, crossing 2 stiles, into the field opposite; head diagonally right aiming for the top right corner
- Climb over stile and stay on the right side of the next field
- Climb over stile and turn right up the farm track, then continue straight ahead up the tarmac farm drive

Holcombe Farm is on your left

- Turn left onto the quiet country road, keeping Holcombe Farm buildings on your left
- The road goes down into a dip to cross a stream and up the other side; continue past Holcombe House
- Turn right just after Upper Holcombe Farm at a Public Footpath sign at stone track that leads into farm
- Climb over stile and head up and right towards a telegraph pole and then towards the trees further up
- Climb over stile next to gate and continue up through the trees
- Just after a farm track on your right, turn right where indicated by a Public Footpath sign
- After 50 yards the path merges onto farm track which you saw earlier, continue along with field on right
- Towards end of field bear slightly left to cross over to farm track on edge of upper field
- Continue through into next field, keep to the right alongside the trees
- At the end of the field, head towards the trees, bearing slightly right, into the corner of field; there is no Public Footpath sign, but it is a well-worn single track, go slightly downhill towards farm buildings
- Emerge into the farm buildings of Spoonbed Farm and continue straight ahead past an old barn (marked "dangerous structure") and out along the farm drive, slightly uphill

- Follow the farm drive straight ahead all the way up to the road, ignoring a Public Footpath to the right

You are now at Cud Hill which has panoramic views of the Severn valley ahead & Painswick valley behind

- Turn right and follow a footpath that runs to the side of the road
- After 200 yds you come to main road, cross it diagonally right to follow a path which runs parallel to road

- Ignore a path that forks to the left next to a fence and continue to follow the main path keeping road on right, cross a crushed Cotswold stone track, go thru some tree stumps following a footpath sign up a grass track heading diagonally up to the right; please note that you are now entering common land so you can actually walk anywhere. There is a BENCH halfway up!

- Head steeply uphill, aiming for the highest point of land that you can see; this is Painswick Beacon which is marked by a trig point at the top; this is at 283m above sea level (and The Falcon is at about 125m)

After looking at the view and resting, then head back to The Falcon ... the following instructions lead you down the right hand side of the golf course. The area covered by the golf course is common land, but naturally it is sensible to stay to the side of the fairways. There is no play on Sundays.

- Leave trig point heading away from Severn valley (effectively turning right from the direction you arrived)

- Go down the stone steps and turn right to head through the walkway with Cotswold stone wall, past the 12th tee and down the right side of the fairway next to the trees

- Cross the road, and continue up the 13th (and 3rd) fairway staying on the right hand side

- Then climb up past the edge of Catbrain Quarry to go through the trees at the top of a rise; go past 3rd tee and then along a short Cotswold stone track to emerge at a green at the end of another fairway

Once again, please note that the golf course is on common land and you can walk anywhere!

- Continue downhill past the 15th tee staying to the right; the 15th hole doesn't have a fairway, just a stony track that leads down to the green which is in a hollow (how do they ever land the ball on this green??!!);

- Go to the left of the green and climb up to emerge at the 16th tee; turn right and walk down towards road

- Go straight across road & head diagonally downhill to a house with two spherical bushes at the gateway; this is just to right of a house with velux windows in the attic; (you cross 17th fairway which goes right to left)

- Turn right onto the road and follow this to the end (you can also walk through the Walkers Car Park)

- Turn left onto main road (B4073) walking downhill towards Painswick

- Turn right down Gloucester Road (the main road forks left and Gloucester Road is a one-way road which comes up towards you)

- Turn right onto the Painswick main street (New Street) & The Falcon will be along the road on your right

Any problems with these directions? Please email me at rod@rrgordon.com (also if you liked the walk!)

SOMETHING INTERESTING:

The land around Painswick Beacon is one of a string of hill forts constructed on the Cotswolds, which date from the Bronze Age and are approximately 3000 year old. Unfortunately little is known of the occupants of this time.

An alternative name for the Beacon is Castle Godwin because Earl Godwin of Wessex camped here with his forces in 1052 AD. Godwin was the most powerful man in England at the time and was in revolt against King Edward the Confessor. A meeting was arranged to try to reconcile the two and Painswick may have been the site chosen. It would have been a convenient spot as it lay close to Wales where Godwin had been recruiting men to join his army, and was just inside the borders of Wessex where he would have felt safe. The Earl's son, Harold Godwinson, succeeded Edward the Confessor on the throne of England in 1065 – and of course this is the same King Harold who died in 1066 at Hastings fighting against William the Conqueror.

During Norman times, the area was divided between three important lords - the Abbot of Gloucester who was lord of Prinknash Abbey which lies north of Painswick. Pain Fitzjohn was lord of Painswick ("wick" is an old Saxon word meaning "estate"), and Kimsbury was held by a man called Elgar who had a manor house in "a watered hollow" in the trees on the Gloucester side of the Beacon. It is also interesting to note that King Henry VIII spent part of his honeymoon with his second wife, Anne Boleyn, at Prinknash where he enjoyed the hunting.

The golf club was founded in 1891 and the course was laid out by David Brown who won The Open in 1868. The subscription rates in 1891 were: A Gentleman: One Pound; A Lady: Ten Shillings; Other member of the same household: 5 Shillings

4. Painswick Valley - North

Rod's Rating	 I like walks which have a mix of terrain and this has exactly that: woodlands and wide meadows, a climb up to Painswick Beacon with its raw, impressive views across the Severn plain followed by a saunter along the soft, delightful Painswick valley.
Daisy's Rating	 The first couple of miles is across common land and Daisy revelled in being off the lead, roaming far and wide. The return leg along the Painswick stream provided her with plenty of opportunities to jump in the water for a swim!
Is it a circular walk?	Yes ( head north along the hills, then return southwards along the valley )
Pub & Parking	You can either park behind The Falcon GL6 6UN or at Stamages Lane car park.
How long did it take?	2 to 3 hours    9 km ie 5½ miles    240m of up/down

The walk in summary:

North along the Cotswold escarpment,
then south along the valley following the Painswick stream back to Painswick

THE WALK - In detail:

The walk starts by following the Cotswold Way for the first couple of miles up past Painswick Beacon

- Turn left out of The Falcon and head uphill along the main road through Painswick (New Street)
- Just after the traffic lights (immediately after Bank House, opposite Bell Yard) turn left up a tarmac drive (Hollyhock Lane)
- Turn to the left at the top of the driveway and then to the right by a large tree, the driveway narrows to a pedestrian footpath here
- Turn right onto the residential road (Hyett Close)
- Turn right at the next road (Churchill Way)
- Turn left onto Gloucester Road; continue uphill up the road

- Ignore the dead end road on your left, but then bear left just past Pound House at the main road (B4073) continuing uphill

- Just after Gyde Road, turn right at Golf Course Road (signposted Cotswold Way)

- Walk through Walkers Car Park and out the other side, back onto road for a few yards

- Fork left at the sign for the Cotswold Way and emerge from some bushes on Painswick golf course (the 17th fairway runs across from left to right in front of you); head diagonally uphill towards a tall Cotswold Way marker post. The area covered by the golf course is actually common land, but naturally it is sensible to stay to the side of the fairways whenever possible and wait for play. There is no play on Sundays.

- Go straight across the road still following Cotswold Way signs; the path takes you to the left of Painswick Cemetery (Cotswold stone wall to your right); follow stone wall to the end

- Go straight across the 1st fairway of the golf course heading for a Cotswold Way marker at a gap in the trees ahead

- Go into woods following Cotswold Way signs; path is fairly level, slight uphill in parts, BENCH ½ way along

- The path emerges from the woods to follow a high Cotswold stone wall at Catbrain Quarry

- Go out along the quarry driveway, bearing left at the fork

- Go straight across the road and follow a crushed Cotswold stone track which leads along the right edge of the fairway; this track continues straight ahead for the next mile or so

At this point you can take a detour up to the left and climb up to the trig point at Painswick Beacon in order to look at the view across the Severn plain to the Malverns and Black Mountains of Wales

- The land widens out at the furthest green (8th hole) on the golf course which is marked by a very tall pole; go to the right of the green and down a rough track into the woods past houses called Bears Den & Bryher

- Follow the track gently downhill as it becomes a tarmac road

You are now leaving the Cotswold Way; ignore any Cotswold Way signs as you walk down the road; NB this is the halfway point of the walk.

- Follow the road down to the Royal William pub (on your right); you now need to cross the main road (A46), but stay on the left side for a few yards to walk through the bus stop; at end of bus stop go directly across and into the woods at a Public Footpath sign

- Follow this footpath for 200 yards until it reaches a small (very quiet!) country road; turn right onto the road & follow it all the way downhill to bottom of valley; stay right at fork following signs to Sheepscombe

You will now follow the Painswick stream as it meanders back down the valley to Painswick

- Follow road round to right & climb over stile on right next to gate just past entrance to Tocknells Court

- Cross over bridge over stream, climb over stile and continue straight on into field following the stream

- At the end of the field, climb over stile on right (& second stile immediately after) and continue straight on

- At a house on your right, go to the left of the willow tree & around the side of the small lake

- Cross a wooden footbridge at the downstream end of the lake

- Climb over a wooden stile and head to the right through a field following the stream

- Join the farm track at the end of a field and go through gateway (no gate!) – and continue into next field

- Go through the metal gate (or over stile) at the end of the field – and continue into the next field

- Go through the metal gate or kissing gate at the end of the field to find yourself on a road

- Go straight across the road, keeping the Cotswold stone house (Damsells Mill) on your right (and its garage on left), cross small bridge made from two sleepers and go down footpath signposted Wysis Way

- There is a stile after just 10 yards & the path leads into the woods. There is a metal gate after about 600 yards & then you walk another 400 yards to an intersection of half a dozen footpaths. I call this intersection Sixways. At the intersection there is a stile on left and a metal 5-bar gate

NB. If you were to turn left at Sixways (going over the stile) you could walk 400 yards to join the Sheepscombe walk that is in Booklet 2 (you would join at Pyll House)

- Turn right at Sixways to cross the stream and enter a field; walk along the left (bottom) edge of the field
- At the end of the field, go through a metal 6-bar gate (marked Public Bridleway & Public Footpath) and continue straight ahead; keep hedge on your right and stream on your left.
- Go through a wooden 5-bar gate by a house (Highgrove) & continue straight ahead along farm driveway
- Where driveway bends uphill & to right, climb over stile on your left & continue straight ahead following direction of stream (but 25yds up the slope from it); the pathway then curves upwards to a clump of trees
- By the way if there are cows in the field, you can actually continue up driveway as the two routes meet later*
- Climb over a stile and head right along the right edge of a field up towards tall trees & houses on a ridge
- NB. The hamlet of Longridge is on the opposite hillside to your left*
- Climb over a stile and turn left onto the farm driveway that you left earlier; you are now in Painswick
- After 25 yds turn right up a footpath running between two wooden fences
- Turn right onto road (Lower Washwell Lane) and continue uphill past houses such as Providence Cottage and Whispering Trees; follow road around to the left and then it finally flattens out
- Straight ahead is a recreation ground (known as "The Rec"); there is a wide metal gate with "No Vehicles By Order Of Parish Council" written on it;
- Go into The Rec via the pedestrian wooden gate next to the metal gate
- Head straight across in the direction of the tennis courts and the church steeple
- Go along the lane between the tennis courts on your right and the youth club on your left
- Follow the footpath until it comes out at a road, with estate agents on left; pause to look at the prices!
- Go straight ahead past the village shop, past Friday Street on your right, past Tibbiwell Lane on your left, past public toilets on left; you are now on Victoria Street which bends round to the right, but you should ...
- Go straight ahead into St Mary's Street
- Go into the churchyard and turn right
- Head up to the main road (New Street) and cross over to The Falcon for a well-deserved drink!

SOMETHING INTERESTING:

Painswick is well known for St Mary's Church and the 99 yew trees that grow in the churchyard – and the legend that if a 100th tree is planted that it will always die from the touch of the devil – but until recently I hadn't realised quite how widely the story had spread.

Greg Thatcher is an artist from Iowa, USA, who travels to Painswick each summer to sketch or paint the yew trees. He has been doing this since 1991 and has produced over 250 works in pen & ink, mixed media and drawings with a 9H pencil. The works fetch many thousands of dollars. This is what Greg says of his work:

My yew tree series is based upon yew trees growing in St. Mary's churchyard in Painswick, Gloucestershire, England. The yew trees were planted in the Middle Ages and form the most beautiful yew tree avenues in the world. Many of the trees planted along dirt pathways around the church have grown together to form archways. Upon discovering the Painswick yew trees, I became fascinated by the larger shapes of the trees & how their shapes & their intricate values interacted and melted together. I am also intrigued by the heightened dramatic quality of the light at Painswick, and had to be very attentive & aware to begin to identify the subtle changes & nuances with the trees. I find this process very stimulating & nourishing to my creativity & imagination. Take a look at www.gregthatchergallery.com – my favourite is Yew Trees #69

5. Slad Valley.

Rod's Rating	 An energetic hike across to the east of Painswick to walk around the famous Slad Valley. This walk features a small loop around Slad Valley itself, but goes along a part of the Laurie Lee Wildlife Way, which you can follow further in order to extend the walk by another hour or two.
Daisy's Rating	 Some nice stretches in the woods providing an opportunity to hunt through the undergrowth; plenty of ups and downs and places to drink.
Is it a circular walk?	Yes
Pub & Parking	You can either park behind The Falcon GL6 6UN or at Stamages Lane car park.
How long did it take?	2 to 2½ hours    7km ie 4½ miles    315m up/down

The walk in summary:

Down to bottom of village & then up opposite side of valley to Bulls Cross (heading east); a small circuit around Slad Valley before heading back to Painswick. Look out for bench halfway round! If you wish to extend walk with a longer circuit around Slad Valley see www.gloucestershirewildlifetrust.co.uk/laurielee

THE WALK - In detail:

- Turn left out of The Falcon & at end of churchyard turn right down Victoria St (past St Michaels Café)
- Follow road round to left & turn right down The Cross (later becomes Tibbiwell Lane) at Cardynham Bistro; NB The Oak is just a few paces straight on here, just past the Cardynham Bistro
- Follow the road all the way to the bottom of the valley
- Just after crossing stream at bottom, turn left up the farm track to Brook Farm (Public Footpath sign)
- Halfway up the track fork left (Public Footpath follows stream left as drive bends round to the right)
- Go over a wooden stile, keeping alongside the stream – it's always muddy here!
- Go round another wooden stile – or go over it if you prefer! Daisy normally jumps in stream here (again)
- Go up a dozen steps and over a stile, the path diverges from the stream slightly here
- Turn left after climbing the stile and walk along the bottom of the field, still following the stream below
- Go over a stile into next field
- Turn right immediately after the stile and walk uphill on the right side of the field
- The field narrows at top right corner into a grass lane, go straight on, climb over stile next to metal gate
- Look behind & right at view of Painswick church & continue straight ahead towards farmyard (Dell Farm)
- Bear right through the farmyard, going past the pond on the right, then walk uphill along the farm track heading towards the houses at the top of the hill (Longridge)
- Ignore any potential turnings at an intersection of tracks halfway up and keep heading up the hill, following a grassy track towards the houses at Longridge
- Turn right on reaching road, Painswick is to the right across valley & houses of Longridge are on left
- After 25 yds there is a raised farm track on the left side of the road: walk along this track
- Before end of track turn left at Public Footpath sign at gap in hedge; walk up past small common area
- Turn right onto the tarmac drive and then after just 10 yards ...
- Turn left at a Public Footpath sign (marked Wysis Way) and head diagonally right up through the woods
- Go straight across the main road (at Bulls Cross) and continue down the lane on the other side, signposted by a Public Footpath sign

You are now about to walk into Slad Valley & at this point you join a stretch of the Laurie Lee Wildlife Way

- Follow the farm track downhill all the way to the bottom of the valley, going around a metal gate halfway down and ignoring an enticing wooden handrail off to the right as you near the bottom
- Fork right about 100 yards from the bottom following a white Public Footpath arrow and Laurie Lee sign
- Continue straight ahead at the very bottom, going past a small lake on your left
- Climb up very steeply going straight ahead, ignore paths to left & right
- At the top of hill turn right onto a farm track which runs along a ridge at edge of trees with views to left

NB. If you wish to follow the Laurie Lee Wildlife Way, continue straight ahead at this point through a gap in wall, through bushes & you will find another Poetry Post just the other side (with beautiful view across a valley)

- Follow the path along the top edge of the woods until you emerge from the trees (this near the top of a hill called Down Hill, which has lovely views down Slad Valley straight ahead towards Stroud); walk downhill straight ahead, crossing the occasional all-weather horse training tracks (BENCH!)

- At the bottom, soon after the gateway by a barn, join a tarmac road, but after 100 yards turn right following a Public Footpath sign along a farm track; you are now on a short stretch of the Wysis Way
- At the end of the first field on your right, bear left

- Shortly before a house (Trillgate), turn right through a gate into a field (follow white footpath sign)
- Skirt around left edge of field heading down to bottom of valley, through a gateway (or over stile)
- Climb up the grassy field on the other side, heading towards right side of the house (Trillgate Farm)
- Go over a stile to right of farmhouse & then turn right to head up the farm drive; follow the farm drive all the way to the top, up, up, up until you get back to Bulls Cross (the main road you crossed previously)
- Continue straight across the road and bear left, not down the road opposite which is signposted to Wick Street but along the track to the left; this goes through 3 gates and into Frith Wood Nature Reserve

Frith is a Saxon word meaning woody common

- After 50 yards there is a noticeboard on the right describing Frith Wood and after another 50 yards, turn right to follow a Permissive Bridleway downhill in the direction of Painswick
  - After a while the permissive path flattens slightly and curves to the left, turn right following a Public Bridleway sign to emerge on the side of a field
  - Go through a wooden gate at the top, walk down the side of the field, go through a metal gate at bottom
  - Go straight across the road and down a farm track past a barn on your left, heading for Painswick
  - Where the track bends to the left, continue straight ahead over a stile still heading for Painswick following a path inbetween a hedge on your left and a wooden fence on your right
  - Go to the left of the gate straight ahead to go through a metal V stile, there is still a hedge on your left and fence on your right but the path is narrower now
  - Go over a small stile in a gap in a Cotswold stone wall and continue downhill
  - The path flattens at the bottom, about 100 yards short of the stream and you should bear right
  - After the garden on your left, fork left down to the start of the village
  - Bear left at the bottom (noting the lovely mill pool on the right!) and walk up the road (Ticklestone Lane)
  - Continue straight ahead at the top to follow a Public Footpath uphill across a grassy area
  - You emerge onto a road (Knapp Lane); follow this road uphill (right / straight on); up, up, up
  - Shortly after Orchard Mead on the right, the road flattens out; follow a high Cotswold stone wall on your left and then turn left up an alleyway where the high wall ends (just before Churn Cottage)
  - The alleyway emerges at the bottom of a road (Hale Lane), continue up to the top (noting the village stocks) and then walk across the churchyard back to The Falcon or carry on to The Oak in St Mary's St
- Any problems with these directions? Please email me at rod@rrgordon.com (also if you liked the walk!)*

SOMETHING INTERESTING:

On this walk you crossed at Bulls Cross twice & it's interesting to know how the author Laurie Lee saw it when he was a small boy. Here is an excerpt from Lee's 'Cider with Rosie' which tells the tale of a phantom coach which was rumoured to travel in the area: The Bulls Cross Coach was another ill omen, and a regular midnight visitor. Bulls Cross was a saddle of heathland set high at the end of the valley, once a crossing of stage-roads and cattle-tracks which joined Berkeley to Birdlip, and Bisley to Gloucester-Market. Relics of the old stage-roads still imprinted the grass as well as the memories of the older villagers. And up here, any midnight, but particularly New Year's Eve, one could see a silver-grey coach drawn by flaring horses thundering out of control, cold hear the pistol crack of snapping harness, the screams of the passengers, the splintering of wood, and the coachman's desperate cries. The vision recalled some ancient disaster, and was rehearsed every night, at midnight. Those who hadn't seen it boasted they had, but those who had seen it, never. For the sight laid a curse upon talkative witnesses, a curse we all believed in – you went white in the night, and your teeth fell out, and later you died by trampling.

As for Bulls Cross – that ragged wildness of wind-bent turves – I still wouldn't walk there at midnight. It was a curious tundra, a sort of island of nothing set high above the crowded valleys. Yet its hollows and silences, bare of all habitations, seemed stained by the encounters of strangers. At this no-man's crossing, in the days of foot-pads and horses, travellers would meet in suspicion, or lie in wait to do violence to each other, to rob or rape or murder. To the villages around, it was a patch of bare skyline, a baldness among the woods, a wind-scarred platform which caught everybody's eye ...

6. The Falcon to The Oak

Rod's Rating	 A tiddler of a walk around the village for a rainy day ...
Daisy's Rating	 Any walk is a good walk, says Daisy ...

- Turn right out of The Falcon and cross the road (A46)
- Go thru the half-timbered lychgate into churchyard following path which leads to right side of church
- Just past the church turn right out of the churchyard (keep the stocks on your left) and go down the hill along Hale Lane walking away from the churchyard.
- Continue straight on at the bottom of Hale Lane where it narrows to a footpath between two cottages
- Turn right onto road (Kemps Lane) and continue for 75 yards past houses (Fig Tree Cottage, Wyck House)
- Turn right at a public footpath sign into the driveway for Knapp End and Halebourne houses (do not go down Knapp lane)
- Go through gate and follow the grass footpath and out of the gate at the other end
- Turn left and walk down the road (Stamages Lane) for around 200 yards
- Turn left at Cross Hands house (with a postbox in the wall) onto Kings Mill Lane continuing along the lane with beautiful views to your right across the valley
- Ignore Knapp Lane to your left & have a peep at the beautifully named Ticklestone Lane & lake on right
- Continue on past Randalls Field (three entrances!) on your left and at the end of the lane turn left up up Tibbiwell back towards the village centre
- At the very top of the hill turn right onto St Mary's Street and The Oak public house will be on your right
- On leaving The Oak, turn left back onto St Mary's Street and continue straight ahead
- The road beds round to the right (small sign saying A46!), continue up with the churchyard on your left

Dating back to 1554 the Falcon is a small, select hotel and restaurant situated in the centre of the beautiful Cotswold village of Painswick. Overlooking the historic village church and its famous 99 clipped yew trees, the Falcon hotel offers great hospitality with a warm welcome.

The Oak is a traditional town pub, located in the narrow streets of Painswick, always guaranteeing a warm welcome, with a varied menu of good pub food with a few twists, from nibbles at the bar, snacks, platters to share and full meals, the choice is yours, with a sun trap of a patio in the summer and a roaring open fire in the winter, tastefully refurbished without losing the character. Good selection of Real Ales, beers and ciders, with a wine list to suit all.
